Storybirds are short, art-inspired stories you make to share, read, and print.

Read them like books, play them like games, and send them like greeting cards. They're curiously fun.

Art-inspired storytelling.

Storybird reverses the process of visual storytelling by starting with the image and "unlocking" the story inside. Choose an artist or a theme, get inspired, and start writing.

The screenshot shows the Storybird website interface. At the top, there is a teal header with the Storybird logo, a search bar, and navigation links for 'Create', 'Read', and 'Tour'. A 'VERSION 0.4' badge is visible on the right side of the header. Below the header, there are links for 'Sign in', 'Sign up', and 'Help'. The main content area features a central artwork titled 'Cat-astrophe' by user 'lakotarox232323'. The artwork depicts three cartoon cats: one wearing headphones, one holding a bottle and a glass, and one wrapped in a scarf. A red arrow points to a blue button labeled 'Start a Storybird with this art' located above the artwork. To the right of the main artwork is a 'Cat-ologue' section with a grid of smaller cat illustrations. Below the main artwork, there is a caption: 'This is my interpretation of Three wise monkeys :)'. The page also includes a 'Comments (23) | Hearts (29)' section with a comment from 'lakotarox232323' saying 'AWESOME.' and a 'More about this art:' section with details like 'Uploaded: July 28, 2010', 'Views: 5454', and 'Copyright © All rights reserved'.
